DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 4, 7, and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by von Dewitz.

Von Dewitz discloses a pivoting shoulder strap for a backpack comprising:

- A retaining plate (11) positioned within the backpack;
- A shoulder strap (3, 4) having a first end adapted to be connected to the backpack;
- A pivoting or ratcheting mechanism (5, 6) positioned on the second end of the shoulder strap and adapted to be mated to the retaining plate; and
- The retaining plate comprises a plate (16) having a pair of screw holes each adapted to receive a screw (14, 15), with each screw being mated to the pivoting or ratcheting mechanism (Column, 3, lines 14-22),

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 14-20 are allowed.

4. Claims 2, 3, 5, 6, 8, 9, 12, and 13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 3727

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

There is no art teaching a pivoting shoulder strap for a backpack comprising a pivoting mechanism having a base plate and a pivoting plate retained in the base plate.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Amram, Dufournet et al., Lowe, and Sason are cited for backpacks with pivoting shoulder straps.
